JBC to hold visioning sessions for high school, CTC project

NOTE: Initial dates and deadline have been revised.

A Joint Building Committee was formed last spring to oversee a rebuild and/or renovation of the Dover High School and Career Technical Center. The JBC is looking for community members to participate in four Visioning Sessions with educational consultant Frank Locker, to be held at the high school on Wednesday, Dec. 17, 2014, from 3 to 6:30 p.m.; Tuesday, Jan. 6, 2015, 3 to 6:30 p.m.; Saturday, Jan. 10, 2015, 8 a.m. to 1 p.m.; Monday, Jan. 12, 2015, 3 to 6:30 p.m.; Saturday, Jan. 31, 2015, 8 a.m. to 1 p.m.; and on a date to be determined the week of Feb. 2, 2015, 3 to 6:30 p.m.

Participants will be required to attend all four sessions. This will be one of the largest projects Dover has undertaken since the construction of the high school in 1967. The JBC knows the importance of input from the entire community.

Interested community member applicants should electronically submit their name, address, email and phone number to Melissa Glidden at m.glidden@dover.k12.nh.us no later than 4 p.m., Monday Dec. 15, 2014. In order to ensure these sessions represent the entire Dover community, please indicate if you are a:

- Public school parent
- Non-public school parent

Check out the musical light show at Dover City Hall

The Greater Dover Chamber of Commerce City Lights Committee has taken its holiday decorating of downtown Dover to the next level.

This year, the committee has decorated the front of Dover City Hall with lights that dance to music playing on your car radio. Motorists are encouraged to park in the designated 10-minute parking spots in front of City Hall, Monday through Friday, 4 to 6 p.m., and Saturday and Sunday from 4 to 10 p.m., and tune the radio to 90.5 FM to enjoy the show.

The light show was designed by Dover resident and high school junior Luke Dobson, who for the past four years has created the popular light show now known as "Luke's Lights" on Overlook Drive.

The display will last from Friday, Dec. 4, 2014, to Sunday, Jan. 4, 2015.

Viewers are encouraged to move along every 10 minutes to give everyone the opportunity to take in the show.

The 2014 Dover Fire Toy Bank is now collecting toys, donations

The Dover Fire Toy Bank has been organized by current and retired members of Dover Fire & Rescue for 37 years. The Toy Bank started by helping a dozen families in the City, and now helps more than 350 Dover families.

The community -- area businesses, seniors, families, school groups, civic groups and others -- have been very supportive and generous in the past. Donations of toys, games, clothing, gift certificates and monetary donations have enabled the toy bank to help those less fortunate each year. Games and toys are fun, but the Toy Bank is also anticipating an increased need for basic, essential items this year. The Toy Bank would not be successful without the community's continued help.

Here is how you can help:

- Collect new toys within your organization for age groups from newborn to 13 years old. If you need a collection box, please call 603-516-TOYS, leave a message and we will get you one for your business;
- Gift cards to area businesses, mall stores, and grocery stores are always appreciated;
- Hand knitted hats and mittens are needed for the cold winter;
- Collect monetary donations within your organization and shop for gifts;
- The Toy Bank will pick up donations at your site or you can drop off new, unwrapped items at these locations, up until Christmas evening: Dover Central Fire Station (9-11 Broadway), South End Fire Station (27 Durham Road) or the North End Fire Station (262 Sixth Street); City Hall, the Dover Public Library, and several local businesses.
- Monetary contributions can be picked up at your location or mailed to following address. Please make checks out to The Dover Fire Toy Bank: The Dover

Fire Toy Bank, P.O. Box 1712, Dover, NH 03821-1712.

To help with wrapping or for more information, contact Jenn Myers at 603-516-6300, Brendan Driscoll at 603-516-6153, Matt Adams at 603-516-6153 or Josh Ambrose at 603-516-6153 to help out with wrapping.

To leave a message, call 603-516-TOYS (8697). Join the Toy Bank volunteers at the toy workshop, 124 Washington St. (back lot), to help wrap presents. All ages are welcome.

Dover Police Charities still accepting names for Christmas Basket Program

The Dover Police Department Christmas Basket Program is still accepting the names of needy families residing in Dover to whom they will deliver baskets of food or meals to those in need assistance during Christmas season.

Last year, the program distributed 150 food baskets and provided meals for more than 500 people. The program needs monetary donations, canned goods and nonperishable items. Monetary donations can be mailed to the Dover Police Department, 46 Locust St., Dover, NH 03820, to the attention of Ann Clark.

Canned goods and perishable items can be dropped off at the Police Department, 46 Locust St.

For those unable to drop off items at the station, call 742-4646 and a pick-up will be arranged.

The deadline is Friday, Dec. 19. Baskets will be delivered Saturday, Dec. 20.

Tour Santa's Castle with Dover Youth to Youth

Dover Youth to Youth will host its seventh annual Santa's Castle at the McConnell Center in downtown Dover on the two weekends before Christmas. Each night children and their families will be able to tour several rooms in Santa's Castle and meet Santa and many of his elves and other costumed characters.

During the first weekend the event will be held on Saturday and Sunday Dec. 13 and 14, from 2 to 6:30 p.m. Over the second weekend the Castle will be open on Saturday, Dec. 20, from 2 to 6:30 p.m.

During the tour, students from Youth to Youth will guide visitors through Rudolph's stable, Santa's toy room, Mrs. Claus's Kitchen and other parts of the Castle. Along the tour children may choose to take part in a variety activities, including such things as decorating a cookie in Mrs. Claus' kitchen, make crafts in Santa's toy shop, write a letter to Santa, or make "reindeer food" in the stable.

Families touring Santa's Castle will also meet Santa's Elves, various costumed characters, and Santa himself. Families are welcome to bring a camera and take pictures or video of their children with Santa.

Santa's Castle is designed for children ages nine and under, but the whole family is invited. The cost is $8 per child and $4 per adult. However, a whole family can take the tour for a maximum of $25. Proceeds support the anti-drug activities of Dover Youth to Youth. Santa's Castle is sponsored by radio station WTSN and The BAY.

Entrance to Santa's Castle will be from the Saint Thomas Street side of the McConnell Center (Door #7). Parking is available in the parking lot located behind the Dover Public Library and on the street by the District Court.

For additional information, go to the Youth to Youth web site at www.DoverY2Y.org or call the Dover Police Department's Community Outreach Bureau at 516-3274.

Dover Youth to Youth is an organization made up of middle and high school students who meet after school to conduct activities and events that promote a drug-free life style. Youth to Youth is coordinated by the Dover Police Department and it is a component of the Police Department's Community Outreach Bureau.

Sign up now for a call from Santa

Dover Recreation and Dover Rotary Club have made special arrangements for Santa Claus to telephone children under six years of age from Santa's Workshop at North Pole Headquarters.

MUNICIPAL MATTERS

Renewal of home occupation permits due by Dec. 31

The Planning Department reminds residents with home businesses the deadline to renew a home business permit is fast approaching. Letters were recently sent to business owners to remind them of this requirement, which has been in effect since 2010. Home businesses are classified as "Customary Home Occupations" under the City of Dover Zoning Ordinance.

The Conditional Use Permit must be renewed on an annual basis by no later than Dec. 31 each year.

"Customary Home Occupations" are permitted in all residentially zoned districts in the City of Dover and refer to small, home-based businesses owned and operated by the occupant of the home. Types of businesses include teachers providing instruction to eight pupils or less, antique dealers, hairdressers/salons, and offices for lawyers, doctors, photographers, dentists, architects, engineers or similar professionals.

"All home based businesses are required to apply to the Planning Department for what is called a 'Certificate of Use,'" said Tim Corwin, Assistant City Planner. "It's a simple but necessary process that all home-based businesses must comply with, even if up until now they have been operating without City approval."

Requirements for customary home occupations include the following: no more than one nonresident may be employed, no more than 25 percent of the net floor area of the home may be used for the business, no display of goods from the street, no signage other than a non-illuminated two-square-foot sign carrying the occupant's name and occupation, two parking spaces in addition to the parking spaces required for the home, and no more than one commercial vehicle may be stored on the property.

If the business exceeds any of these requirements, it is only permitted if it is specifically identified as a permitted use in the zoning district in which the property is located, and may require Planning Board approval. Likewise, some businesses are specifically excluded from the definition of "Customary Home Occupation" such as retail, landscaping, caterers/bakeries, and kennels. Instead these businesses are only permitted if specifically identified as permitted uses in the zoning district, in which the property is located.

Home businesses operating without a Customary Home Occupation permit or which do not renew the permit are considered to be in violation of the Zoning Ordinance and subject to penalties.

"When we encounter a zoning violation, our assumption is that the resident or business owner is not aware of the zoning regulation," Corwin said. "We're happy to work with them to bring their property or business into compliance. Bringing a code enforcement action against a property or business owner and seeking penalties is always a last resort."

For more information on customary home occupation permits, please contact the City of Dover Department of Planning and Community Development at 516-6008.

First tax bill due Dec. 29

The City of Dover's property tax rate for fiscal year 2015 has been calculated by the New Hampshire Department of Revenue Administration and certified at $26.01 per $1,000 assessed valuation.

There are four components to the tax rate: The City portion, local education portion, state education, and Strafford County. The tax rate of $26.01 is broken down as follows:

The breakout of the components of the property tax rate and the change over the prior year is as follows:

- City: $10.09, an increase of 10 cents over the previous year;
- Local education: $10.50, a decrease of four cents over the previous year;
- State education: $2.49, a decrease of two cents over the previous year;
- County: $2.93, no increase over the previous year.

Tax rate calculations by the state Department of Revenue Administration were delayed this year in many communities, including Dover.

Tax bills were mailed to property owners last week. The first half of the tax bill is due Dec. 29. The second half of the tax bill is due by June 1, 2014.

For more information, contact the City of Dover Tax Assessment Office at 6013-516-6014.

Winter parking ban in effect

A citywide winter parking ban began Dec. 1, 2014 and will conclude April 1, 2015.

The ban requires that no vehicle be parked on any city street or sidewalk between the hours of 1 and 6 a.m., and is not limited to nights with snow in the forecast. Vehicles may park in city controlled parking lots during this time without the need for a parking permit; however, daytime restrictions for each particular parking lot will be enforced.

The Library, Third Street, Transportation Center and School Street parking lots have designated areas where overnight parking is allowed. Drivers should look for signs in the lots indicating which rows are available.

Vehicles found in violation of the winter parking ban will be issued a $15 parking ticket. Vehicles interfering with snow removal may be towed.

The city will also enact an emergency parking ban for the downtown area, when needed, to facilitate snow removal. The emergency parking ban will be announced by 3 p.m. each evening and take effect at 1 a.m. the following morning. When the emergency parking ban is in effect, any car parked on a downtown street will be towed. Notification of the emergency parking ban will be conducted through local media, the City of Dover website, cable channel 22 and Dover Download.

Downtown restaurants, bars and other late night business are encouraged to sign up for an e-mail notification of an emergency parking ban by contacting the Parking Bureau at parking@dover.nh.gov or by calling 516-2277.

Streets included in the emergency parking ban area are: Chestnut Street; Main Street; Chapel Street; School Street; First Street; Second Street; Locust Street from Washington to Silver Street; Washington Street from Belknap to River Street; Central Avenue from Sixth Street to Silver Street; Third, Fourth, Fifth and Sixth streets (Central to Chestnut); Henry Law Avenue from Central Avenue to George Street; Broadway from Central Avenue to St. John Street; Hale Street; St. Thomas Street from Central to Locust Street; Locust Street from Hale Street to Washington Street.

A map is available here.

For more information on the winter parking ban or the emergency parking ban can contact the Parking Bureau at 516-2277.

Dover seeks volunteers to help host submarine

The City of Dover will be a host community for a submarine expected to arrive at the Portsmouth Naval Shipyard. The submarine has not yet been determined.

In anticipation of the arrival, the City of Dover is seeking community members or groups to assist the committee preparing for the submarine's arrival. Those interested are asked to contact Recreation Director Gary Bannon at g.bannon@dover.nh.gov or 603-516-6401.

The Host Community Program adopts a submarine for the duration of the availability at Portsmouth Naval Shipyard. The community welcomes the officers, crew and families of the ship and includes them as part of their community. It is a partnership -- the submarine crew enjoys the community's hospitality and in return, the community receives a helping hand and a unique feeling of involvement in the lives of naval personnel.

As an example, crewmembers may be invited to join in a civic project, tutor in the schools, or participate in holiday events. It is a wonderful opportunity for the community to get to know the Navy and their sailors and introduce the crews and their families to the many treasures found in our Seacoast community. The crew experiences first-hand the warmth and strong support from the Seacoast. There is a special relationship that is built as a result of the Host Community Program.

City's boards and commissions keep our community vibrant

The City of Dover is a vibrant community due in large part to the energy and talent of citizen participation on boards and commissions.

The City's boards and commissions encourage public participation, including new members to fill vacant positions.

DESTINATION DOVER

If you can Get To It!, you could win a fistful of Dover Dollars

Would an extra $500 help with holiday shopping? To help local businesses and customers find the ample parking areas downtown, the Get To It! campaign hosts a weekly scavenger hunt on Thursdays between 12 and 4 p.m.

Participants can enter to win the $25 Dover Dollars weekly prize and enter to win a $500 Grand Prize. The weekly scavenger hunt continues on Thursdays through Dec. 18. Dover Mayor Karen Weston will draw the grand prize winner from all entries on Dec. 22.

For clues, tune in to Z107, 95.3 the Bull, The Bay 98.7 FM, the SHARK 102.1/105.3 FM and WOKQ between 11 a.m. and 12 p.m. on Thursdays, follow the Dover Chamber and City of Dover on Facebook and Twitter or visit the Get To It! website to find out the clue every week. The clue will direct you to one of the supplemental parking areas in downtown Dover that is now available during the development process where a representative from the city will have an entry form for you to fill out and bring to a local business that may use the particular lot.

For more information, visit www.drivingdover.com.

City offers free downtown valet

parking this weekend

In anticipation of a busy holiday season for downtown Dover businesses, the City of Dover will provide complimentary valet parking service for users of the Orchard Street parking lot each Friday and Saturday through Saturday, Dec. 20. Visitors to any downtown business, including bars, restaurants and stores, are welcome to enjoy this free service.

Atlantic Parking Services will have valets stationed in the loading area on Orchard Street, in front of the Orchard Street Chop Shop and The Brick House, from 5 p.m. to 11 p.m. each night. There is no cost to motorists. Tipping valet drivers is optional.

"Valet parking expands the capacity of the downtown parking system on nights we anticipate an increase in visitors", said City of Dover Parking Manager Bill Simons.

This complimentary valet service is the part of the "Get to It!" initiative, which aims to keep visitors informed about available parking throughout the downtown during the construction of a new police station and public parking garage on Orchard Street.

"The holidays are a busy time for our downtown merchants," said City Manager J. Michael Joyal Jr. "We want to make sure visitors know ample parking is available and that businesses are easily accessible during development activity in our thriving downtown," said City Manager J. Michael Joyal Jr.

During the construction of the new police facility and parking garage, which is expected to conclude in November 2015, residents and visitors can stay up to date on downtown parking options and traffic flow by visiting a website created specifically for that purpose, www.drivingdover.com. The website and valet service are both part of the "Get To It!" initiative, which is funded solely by parking revenue.

For more information, contact the City of Dover Parking Bureau at 603-516-2277 or parking@dover.nh.gov.

'The Eastern Coyote in New England' program at Dover Library

slated for Dec. 17

Thousands of eastern coyotes live among us -- rarely seen, often heard, and frequently discussed. Some people resent their presence and fear them as predators of pets, livestock and game animals. Others admire their resilience and are thrilled to hear their return-to-the-wild howl and all it represents. In short, the coyote is a topic of contention.

On Wednesday evening, Dec. 17 at 7 p.m., the Dover Public Library will welcome Project Coyote representative and wild canid ecologist Christine Schadler to discuss this controversial animal and how people and wildlife can coexist through compassionate conservation.

Christine earned a Master's of Science in Conservation Biology at Antioch University. Her thesis focused on the natural recovery of the Eastern Timber Wolf in Michigan. She taught Conservation Issues, Dendrology, and Wolf Ecology at UNH, and continues to instruct and mentor adult degree candidates in the UNH System at Granite State College.

While wolf recovery was the focus of her early work, Chris's attention shifted to the eastern coyote when she moved to New England. She chose a farm with known coyote problems to raise sheep and train her border collies. Using sound livestock management and common sense, she avoided any predation. She is also working on a book "Becoming Wolf: The Eastern Coyote in New England". Between presentations she can be found at camp in northern New Hampshire researching coyote feeding patterns in a mosaic of farms and woodlots.

This program is free and open to the public. For more information call the Dover Public Library at 603-516-6050.

Strafford County residents can find help during Recovery Day

Are you or a loved one struggling with drug addiction? Help is available and recovery is possible. Join us on Saturday, Dec. 13 for Strafford County Community Recovery Day. The Garrison Wing at Wentworth-Douglass Hospital will be filled with prevention, treatment and recovery resources from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Come get connected to resources necessary to take the next steps towards your own recovery or to assist a loved one in getting the help they need. Counselors will be available on site to assist those looking to find resources ranging from individual and group counseling to residential treatment programs. An "Amnesty Box" will be available where attendees can anonymously dispose any illicit drugs, prescription drugs or paraphernalia with no questions asked.

This program is being coordinated by the Police Chiefs of Strafford County and the Strafford County Sheriff's Office, in collaboration with community resources.

For more information contact Carrie Conway at 603-516-7195.
